WE WERE THERE...

HEIGHTS HIGH SCHOOL

WE SAW A VIVID PICTURE

Although the greater part of a teenager's day is spent at school, many events occur outside of the classroom which greatly effect the student's life. During the school year 1954-55 many of these events did occur. WE WERE THERE to see it all.

In the World Series, the New York Giants crushed our own Cleveland Indians, 4 games to 0. Heights had its own baseball day with such notables as Bob Feller and Al Lopez attending the festivities. The question of German rearmament was a great topic for discussion, and the question went still unanswered. Hurricanes Edna and Hazel ripped their merry course along the Atlantic coast and left havoc in their paths. For the first time in the history of the United States a presidential cabinet meeting was televised with President Eisenhower presiding and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles the principal speaker.

OF A STUDENT'S LIFE...

AT HOME...AT SCHOOL...

IN THE WORLD.

Yes, WE WERE THERE to see many important events. Audrey Hepburn was awarded the "Academy Award" for her role in "Roman Holiday." Roger Bannister, the young British track star, captured the hearts of the world by running a "dream" mile in 3'58". Another name to win attention was Liberace, the pianist who literally came into our homes on Wednesday nights. An election was held in November with the Democrats victorious by a narrow margin. But, perhaps the most important event was the ruling by the Supreme Court outlawing segregation in public schools making us really "one nation under God," as our pledge of allegiance had been amended to read.

Back Row: Murray Fishil, Norty London, George Massing, Pat Fasciano, Barry Brown, Judy Wood, Dave Spreng, Chad Dilley, Fred Kleinman, Bob Kilzer.

The Student Council is one of the most select school organizations. It is composed of representatives from all homerooms, class presidents, and the presidents of chartered activities. Much of the detailed work is accomplished in committees and presented to the entire council for final approval.

One of the newest committees is the Improvement Committee which is devoted to keeping the school neat and attractive. The Activities Committee, sponsor of the Three Ring Sports Circus, is concerned with improving school spirit. The Student Council also supervised the bowling tournament.

Mr. Richard Tupta resigned from the faculty and his position as Student Council adviser at the end of Semester I. Under his guidance the Harvest Dance and the All-School Party were great successes. New sponsor, Mr. Paul Wiseley, promises to "Provide opportunities for student cooperation in managing school affairs."

A HELPING HAND TO ALL NEW GIRLS

Imagination was one thing possessed in large quantities by these prize-winning mask-makers at the Girls' Cabinet Halloween Party

Girls' Cabinet, sponsored by Miss Wallace, is the oldest service club at the school. This organization for the girls at Heights is composed of one representative elected from each girls' homeroom. Cabinet members discuss problems pertaining to the welfare and happiness of all the girls in school.

A welcoming get-together for CI girls and boys is the first project of every semester. A George Washington Party for underclass girls and a Halloween Party for upperclass girls are annual events. Also on the calendar this year were a Father-Daughter dinner and a Mother-Daughter tea. To round out the social affairs sponsored by Girls' Cabinet, a tea is given for all the girl graduates at the end of each semester.

Making Christmas cards for the faculty, maintaining a Tardy Chart and supervising the Lost and Found are some of the services of the Cabinet.

ENJOYMENT FOR MANY STUDENTS

The aim of the Commercial Club is to satisfy the interest of girls who want to enter the business field

The Library Aides help alleviate the work of the librarians by performing errands and assigned library duties.

The girls in Senior Literary Club must show willingness to serve. This club has several service projects each year

In order to learn more about the people of Latin America, members of the Pan-American Club hear speakers and see slides. They also publish a Spanish newspaper, LaVoz.

ORCHESTRA'S SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Directed by Mr. John Farinacci, the symphony orchestra was kept busy this year preparing for five public performances. Joint concerts with the Choir and glee clubs were included.

After the Spring Concert April 1, the orchestra left for its bi-annual tour. For the members of the musical group this trip climaxed the season and was recompense for their long hours of rehearsal.

Upon its return from the journey, the orchestra played before the School Superintendents Conference, at Public Hall.

All students who are interested in music and are able to play an orchestral instrument can become a member of this organization.

Orchestra members finishing each chorus with a robust round of applause greet all visitors brave enough to climb the stairs to WMR with the singing of the welcome song.

CONCERT, MARCHING, ASSEMBLY

The Band completed another successful year. The musicians marched at all the football games. Included in one of their programs was a drill of precision maneuvers. The marching season was concluded with the Annual Military Ball. All bands men from the schools where our band marched were invited

The Annual Fall Concert featured a program consisting mainly of marches written by John Phillip Sousa. Dr. Frank Simon, formerly solo cornet player of Sousa's band, was a great conductor

February 4 the band ushered in the new year with a jazz concert in the auditorium. The band, in the spring, was entered in the District Contest and later participated in the State Contest.

The year was climaxed by the Awards Dinner where students who had excelled in bandwork were given awards

DISCUSSION CLUBS WIDEN INTERESTS

The College Discussion Club was organized to give its members a better knowledge of the requirements, costs and campus life of many colleges. It helps its members in choosing their school of higher learning. Membership is open to all juniors and sophomores. Mr. Roy Uber is the group's faculty adviser.

Debating and reviewing the world affairs, the Discussion Club members became acquainted with today's problems. One program featured a discussion of the two principal political parties of the United States. Other programs include guest speakers and panel discussions.

25TH YEAR

For 25 years Mr. George Strickling has been leading the Heights High Choir in its excellent performances. This year they celebrated not only the director's silver anniversary with the choir but also his golden anniversary in music.

December 22 over 2,000 people filled the auditorium not only to hear the talented choir sing but also to honor Mr. Strickling. President Eisenhower sent a telegram of congratulations to the choir and its director.

This year they had many singing engagements at churches, hospitals, places honoring the holiday festivities, and on radio programs. February 19 they sang at the Music Hall with the Longines Symphonette, which is conducted by Mishel Piastro. March 19 600 singers attended the Lake Erie League Choral Festival here, where the first such festival was held.

The Choir Mothers' Club plans affairs to raise money for the choir's trips and activities. February 23 they had their annual card party in the Social Room.

When the choir was first organized, there were 31 students in all; this year it is composed of 90 students. May 5, 6, and 7 they made their annual trip, this time to St. Louis.

GLEE CLUBS ENJOY MAKING MUSIC

Mr. Barbee conducts the temporarily silent Girls' Glee Club. With their many rehearsals and performances this organization is seldom quiet.

The Girls' Glee Club, under the able direction of Mr. Harold Barbee, is one of the most active organizations. It is composed of 76 girls from all three grades. They are chosen from the chorus classes by audition with Mr. Barbee. The girls sing popular standards, and they practice period eight every day. Included among the many outside activities this year was the annual dinner during which the girls serenaded the patrons of Crosby's. The club this spring also gave its annual concert at which time Mr. Barbee's "April Suite" was sung with great success.

Mr. Barbee seems to be doing more than conducting the Boys' Glee Club. By watching their director the boys can usually determine the words of the song

What's wrong, Annie, isn't it good?" A quintet gets ready to sound off as Bob Seideman conducts and Ann Ridenour accompanies.

Every seventh period Room 321 rings with the voices of the thirty-five boys in the Boys' Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Harold E. Barbee.

Although the primary purpose of this organization is singing for enjoyment, other people are thrilled by the songs of this club at their annual concerts with the Girls' Glee Club, at their radio broadcasts, and at the banquet for the parents in January.

All boys are eligible to apply for membership. They need only see Mr. Barbee and have an interview and an audition.

These boy singers have a club organization with Nat Lipsic, president; Al Krulak, vice-president, and Dennis Donegan, secretary-treasurer. The section leaders are Sanford Fleishman, first tenor; Bill Meyer, second tenor; Al Krulak, baritone, and Nat Lipsic, bass.

Front Row: Nat Lipsic, Sanford Fleishman, Richard Friedman, Ann Ridenour, Gene Maeroff, Marv Schrage, Ira Newman, Mr. Barbee

One representative from each homeroom attends Junior Red Cross meetings. The group undertakes one service project each semester and mails copies of The Black and Gold to Heights alumni in the armed forces.

The Visual Education members show educational films to classes and movies during lunch period for the students' class room enrichment and enjoyment.

To boost the students' spirit at all school events is the sole aim of the Activities Committee. The club, a part of Student Council, sponsored a Senior-Sophomore banquet in honor of the football team.

CLUBS PROVIDE SERVICE

Noon Movie Guards is a service club in charge of the auditorium during noon movie periods. Members are boys who have a satisfactory record in attendance, citizenship, and scholarship.

Getting valuable experience in chemistry are the twelve members who make up the present chemistry Lab Assistants Club. These students assist during chemistry classes one period each day. Most have a B or better average in chemistry.

Rifle Club members learn about handling guns and put this knowledge to use by shooting at targets with live ammunition. This club was started during World War II.

Ensemble Club members meet during their free time, either before or after school. Each new member is invited by the present members of the Ensemble Club, and he must be at least a CII. They perform for civic groups such as the Chamber of Commerce, churches, and the Women's Civic Club.

Three years ago the Dance Band, under the direction of Mr. Harold Barbee, was organized as a permanent group to play for school affairs. The money goes into the Dance Band Fund for operating expenses. The arrangements used by Glen Miller, Stan Kenton, and Harry James are among the group's most popular selections. Mr. Barbee also arranges some of the band's numbers.

Each semester the Cleveland Heights Chapter of the National Honor Society honors five per cent of the upperclassmen by accepting them into its organization. Members must have a B or better average, and, in addition, possess the four essentials for membership: scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

This year's fund-raising project was selling book covers to raise money for the scholarships which the Society awards semi-annually. In addition to earning money, National Honor Society also has discussions and parties, and the members perform various services for the school.

Quill and Scroll is the Literary Honor Society which gives recognition to students who have done outstanding work on any of the three publications: the Black and Gold, the Crest, and the Caldron. A member must be a junior and in the upper one-third of his class and recommended by the faculty adviser of the publication for which he works.

The highlight of the year is the spring initiation tea at which the editors for the following year are announced.

Carolynn Brewer explains to new staff members the proper way to make a layout page for the introduction section of a yearbook

AT HEIGHTS

Originally yearbooks belonged almost exclusively to the senior class. They were written by upperclassmen only and, consequently, were generally concerned only with upperclassmen. The old yearbooks were of very little interest to the rest of the school.

Today the conception of a yearbook has been altered. The modern yearbook should be a mirror reflecting school life and presenting every facet of the school. Everything from the cooking class to the football team must be included. The finished yearbook is to be a composite picture of the entire school.

The Caldron is faced with the problem of representing the life and spirit of the approximately two thousand Heights students. Various staffs working as a unit alleviate this difficulty. Each staff has its editor, who is responsible for the staff's assignments. Staff writers are directly responsible to their staff editor. The editors, in turn, are responsible to the editor-in-chief and the faculty adviser, who coordinate and guide the entire undertaking. The staffs work at the same time on different assignments. Thus an observer would tend to consider the combined staffs nothing more than a manifestation of confusion. Actually they are groups of a unit working toward one end, an accurate and interesting yearbook.

The Caldron is continually striving to capture the school life at Heights. Its objective is simply to present a record of one school year. This record is to be a thorough compilation of the events that occurred during the year that will become treasured memories.

WORKING ON THE BLACK AND GOLD STAFF

Bringing school news to Heights students for the last thirty-nine years, The Black and Gold is issued every other Friday to its eager readers. Every semester it presents a plentiful supply of plaques to homerooms signifying that all members of a homeroom are subscribers. This condition alone testifies to The Black and Gold's continued popularity at Heights.

The Black and Gold is produced by students in the journalism classes. Reporters and editors toil with typewriter and pencil to include all the news of clubs and classes. The faculty adviser and journalism teacher, Miss Bernice Van Sickle, gives the staff assistance in its undertaking.

The excellent quality of the high school newspaper is recognized outside of Heights as well as by the student body. It has achieved the rank of All-American from the National Scholastic Press Association and the International Honor Award from Quill and Scroll. In addition, The Black and Gold is judged a first class newspaper by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and the Northeastern Ohio Scholastic Press.

STUDENT TALENT

Above: Mary Schneider and Judy Weber comment on art work submitted to the Crest as staff members look on from behind. Below: Shelley Foley, Crest staff member, posts Crest envelopes in various English classes for aspiring young writers.

A literary magazine is a periodical that provides a cultural means of expression for those with literary or artistic ability. Such a magazine is The Crest, published once each semester since December, 1938. Students contribute all the material published, from book reviews to poetry.

Any student may, if he wishes, submit a piece of written work. The literary staff, headed by the literary editor, selects the material to be published, and plans the forthcoming publication. All illustrations are designed by the art staff. Miss Edith Malin and Mr. Clayton Bachtel, faculty advisers for literary and art staffs, aid the students in producing a praise-worthy publication.

The Crest staff has consistently turned out noteworthy issues. The magazine has won first place rating from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Heights students find this publication an excellent medium in which to display their creative talent and to acquire experience in literary writing.

The Crest is purchased and distributed in the English classes in as much as the English department considers it its project. While providing its readers with cultural entertainment, The Crest affords Heights students an opportunity of employing both their literary and their artistic talents in helping to produce a literary magazine.

SHAKESPEARE PROVES SUCCESSFUL CHOICE

"Come on and kiss me, Kate." As the curtain falls and thunderous applause ascends the stage, the cast assembles for curtain calls. The cry of "turn the houselights on" is heard, bringing to a close the fall production of Heights Players.

The production of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" took experience and practice. Experience can be achieved only by constant practice. A play, which is produced entirely by students, is presented every Thursday in the Little Theatre for members of the club. At its completion the play is criticized with an eye to possibilities for the semi-annual major production. Dr. Dina Rees Evans and Miss Gina Artina direct the production.

To furnish training in every phase of the theatre is the purpose of Heights Players. Activities such as weekly theatre parties held at the Playhouse, Karamu, The Hanna, and Eldred Theatre provide a chance to view plays presented by professionals. "The Spotlight," the club's weekly newspaper, presents students with an opportunity to express opinions of the preceding week's plays and to discuss other club business.

The highest honor is to be elected to Thespians. Voting is done by students who are already members. It is a society for those who have rendered service towards the furthering of high school dramatics. Impressive candle-light ceremonies mark the semi-annual initiation. Thespian Troop 410 forms the heart of this club which strives to earn recognition in dramatic circles. Members of the troop conduct clinics in theatre arts.

HERE, THERE, EVERYWHERE—FRIENDSHIP

"Friendship, friendship, it's a perfect blendship." The Friendship Club opens its doors to every girl at Heights, providing entertainment and a chance to make new friends.

The club is divided into three chapters—sophomore, junior, and senior—which have their own officers and affairs. The Executive Board promotes the friendliness of the club through combined meetings once a month. At these meetings there are various guest speakers. One of these, Reverend Donald Benedict, presented a clear cut picture of slum areas.

It's not all work and no play, however, because the girls perform eight services a year. At the combined service meetings the members put their artistic ability to work by making favors for hospitals and old folks' homes.

FROM BEGINNING TO END—FRIENDSHIP

The Sophomore Chapter, the largest chapter of all, helps the girls get acquainted with Heights. At the meetings members receive tips and hints on good grooming, dating and other timely topics. Friends from the other junior highs are easily made and lasting friendships formed.

By the junior year girls are established in the school, and the meetings are primarily on the light-hearted side. Fun and games prevail over panel discussions.

In the senior year Friendship becomes more than just a club. College panels and discussions help to prepare the girls for coming years. After many hours of studying, testing and graduation preparation, Friendship meetings offer a chance to relax and talk.

The combined Friendship Clubs hosted a faculty tea in September.

Coach Richard Tupta left four good years of track behind when he retired to take a position in industry.

The 1954 track squad came in third in the LEL meet, second in the Hilltop, and won the pole vault, discus, two-mile relay, and 440-yard dash in the Euclid Relays.

Many outstanding juniors and seniors were among the Tupta men making for a well-balanced team.

"Several lettermen and many good juniors are returning," stated Mr. Tupta. "The 1955 team should be another good combination of speed and strength."

TIGERS WIN TEN

The Hilltop nine, hampered by injuries throughout the season which forced the team to field a make-shift line up, racked up a creditable record, winning 10 and losing 7.

Although the team placed fourth in the LEL, two team members, Danny Olshansky and Lou Cangelosi, were named to the all-state squad.

Don, one of the co-captains, led the regulars in base stealing, hitting, walks, and runs scored; while Lou, 1954's Outstanding Athlete, ranked on top in slugging.

GOLF, CROSS COUNTRY, TENNIS

The tennis team, led by Coach Miller, completed its current season by capturing third place in the Lake Erie League with a record of three victories and two defeats. Their only losses were at the hands of unusually powerful Lakewood and Shaker teams. Of the fifteen varsity racketmen, Monroe Newborn, Ronnie Shapiro, Ray Coen, Dave Rosin, Sheldon Frank, and Ronnie Rubin are regulars. Last summer Rubin won the Northeastern Ohio Boys' Junior Division Championship.

Dave Ogilvie, a 1954 Cleveland News Medalist winner, captained the Heights golf team to the Sandusky Invitational Open, where they played an inspirational match. The linkmen started the season by tying Orange during a raging snowstorm. In other independent matches they defeated Willoughby, St. Joseph, and Cathedral Latin. The team, averaging in the middle eighties, is composed of Tom Manwell, Ray Taddeo, Doug Bishop, Peter Haiman, Larry Philips, and Ogilvie. Despite their record of three victories and eight losses in Lake Erie League competition, Coach Paul Wisely is looking forward to next season when Heights will have a much improved varsity.

The Cross-country squad lived up to Coach Alvin Engel's expectations. The harriers placed sixth in the district meet and fourth in the LEL meet. After illness forced captain Murray Reichenstein out of competition, Marshall Metzger, BI, took over

JV'S READY FOR VARSITY

"We thought if we won four games we'd be lucky," stated Tiger football coach George McKinnon, commenting on the season, "but because of their spirit, attitude, and determination, we had a wonderful season."

A record of three wins and two losses garnered the squad a three-way tie with Parma and Shaw for second place in the Lake Erie League.

The two setbacks, the only ones of the year, came at the hands of Lakewood, LEL champs, and Parma. This defeat from Parma was an upset, due to inspired play on the part of Parma and a make-shift Tiger backfield.

Highlighting the campaign were victories over Warren, ranked fourteenth in the state, and Shaker, arch hilltop rivals. Both wins were by a scant two-point margin.

Next season will find many excellent juniors returning for their last licks plus several potential stand-outs from the junior varsity ranks.

A good varsity is built on the foundation provided by the junior varsity. These younger boys have the opportunity to grow and develop into fine players through daily practice and weekly competition with junior varsity teams from the surrounding area.

Heights JV squad, coached by Mr. Carmen Izzo with the assistance of Mr. Mark Matovina, racked up a creditable record of three wins and three losses playing against LEL sophomore elevens in addition to John Adams and Collinwood.

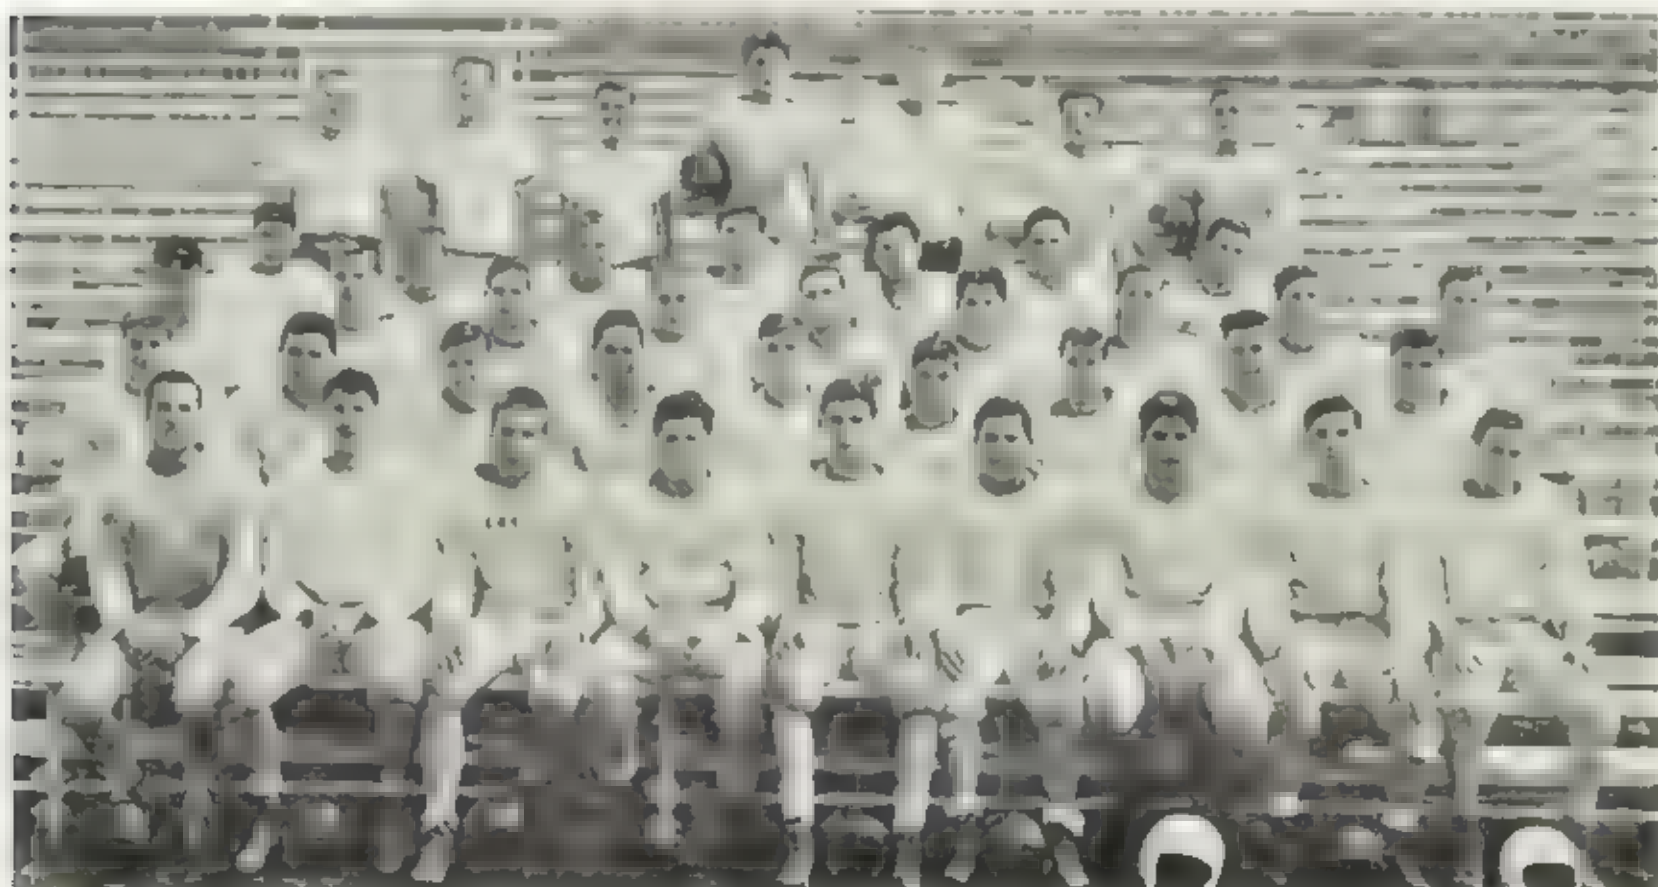

The Izzomen received all the experience necessary for their next step, varsity participation.

Facing all opponents with a large growl, the Heights Tigers' Mascots display their talents with the Cheerleaders. Pat Roth, Loretta Lorz, and Janet Eger are the first girls to initiate what many hope will become a tradition.

VARSITY, J. V. BASKETBALL TEAMS

Coach Vannorsdall wasn't crying. 'We just lacked experience,' he stated with a grin. 'Our biggest consolation was defeating Euclid, the Lake Erie League champs, in our final game.'

The Heights cagers compiled a league record of one victory against nine losses as they wound up in last place in the league.

Their season record was three wins and twelve losses. The outstanding varsity basketball player was Mike Berkey, who received the Loveland Memorial Trophy.

At the end of the season John Hancock was chosen by his teammates as the honorary team captain.

Ronald Silverman makes a vain attempt to stop a blocked pass.

AIM FOR FUTURE SEASONS

The Junior Varsity Basketball team, under the guidance of coach Ed Moderick, finished the season with an LEL record of five victories against five defeats.

In independent competition the squad beat Ashtabula and Lutheran while losing to Cuyahoga Falls and Canton-McKinley. It completed the year with an over-all record of seven wins and seven losses.

The highlight of the season was the defeat of the Lakewood Junior Varsity after it defeated the Tiger cagers by twenty-five points in a previous encounter.

The heartbreak was the team's downfall at the hands of Shaw during the final three seconds of play.

Not it isn't a conga line. It's just Heights playing Shaker.

The newly formed wrestling team completed its initial season with three victories and two defeats. The thirty-eight boys were matched against schools that had had the sport for two years or more. The response was overwhelming with ninety-eight boys signing up. After a two-week training period tryouts were held, and the boys showing the most promise were chosen. Because there are eleven weight classes, every boy gets a fair and equal chance to participate. Although known as a team sport the members work individually. Wrestling is being worked into the gym classes so that more boys will benefit from this activity.

Every sports enthusiast has an opportunity to excel in school games in class competition. Each of the thirty-seven boys' homerooms is eligible to take part in intramural games. The purpose of intra-class sports is to give the boys who are not on school teams the chance to participate in athletics. The three intramural sports are volleyball, basketball, and baseball. They are under the guidance of Mr. George McKinnon, Mr. Carmen Izzo, and Mr. Mark Matovina, respectively. In each grade level the winning homeroom is awarded a plaque. The six winners in each grade compete to determine the school champion.

SWIM TEAM HIT BY HARD LUCK

The LEL hopes of the varsity swim team rested on the diving excellence of Bob Weber. He fell on the diving board, however, breaking his ankle, and with him fell the hopes of the squad. Bob was team captain and had won all but one of the meets in which he was entered.

The team with a 1-7 record finished in fifth place in the LEL; in independent competition it was 0-4. In the District Meet the swimmers took fourth place. The medley relay, composed of Walter Lock, Dick Dunn, and Ed Martin, took third place. The squad also participated in the State Meet at Columbus.

During the first weeks of training the varsity practiced endurance swimming. After the boys were in top condition, they worked on improving form and strokes.

Thanks to the guidance and supervision of Miss Dorothy Crane and the Swim Cadet Club, Heights' girls need not fear drowning in the pool. All cadets have successfully passed the life-saving test. Study halls and free periods are given up by the cadets so that they may aid other girls in attaining these same skills. Frequently these girls also donate their after-school time in order to guard at splash parties.

The annual Water Show produced by swim cadets took place May 12-13. A preview of this show was witnessed by GAA members at their March meeting. Displaying the outstanding talent of the Cadet club, solos and group numbers were performed gracefully and smoothly.

Many girls profit from the services performed by the Gym Cadets. The girls in Cadets have to pass many tests and fulfill the requirements needed for membership into this honorary athletic organization. In addition to aiding gym teachers, Misses Graham, Horn, and Crane, the club manages its own equipment which includes basketballs, towels, and volleyball nets. It's not all work and no play, however, for a yearly overnight is held at Camp Hiram House. There are also numerous potlucks and picnics to make for a well-rounded program. The Cadets have a special period in which to practice refereeing and to plan social affairs

Yellow Jackets is the goal of every athletic minded Heights High girl. When a member of GAA receives a letter in any one of the many after school sports, she is eligible for membership in this female honorary sports organization.

Serving at the Annual Football Banquet and singing carols at various hospitals during Christmas time are two events which were on the year's agenda. Members enjoy a full social program which includes potluck dinners, breakfasts, initiation parties, and overnight trips.

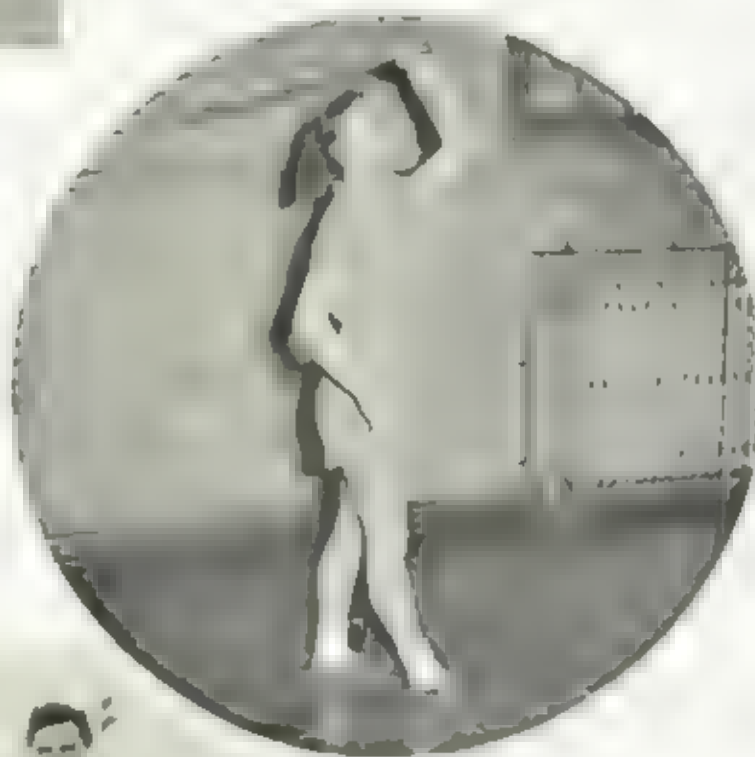

During the year this group puts on a play day in which the members can choose the sporting events in which they wish to participate. The various sports are basketball, hockey, baseball, and volleyball.

Well known are the six girls who are Cheerleaders. Linnea Rupp, Pat Fasciano, Barbara Konnor, Ann Ensched, and Gail Kravitz headed by Marilyn Meyer lead the student body in its cheers. To become a cheerleader they had to try out and be accepted as members of the junior varsity. After a season on the JV team they graduated to their current position on the varsity. Then, with hours of practice behind them, they led the school pep assemblies and helped the rooters cheer the football and basketball teams. The Tiger Mascots, Loretta Lorz, Janet Eger, and Pat Roth aided the Cheerleaders create spirit. Encouraging both groups is Miss Katherine Weller, faculty adviser.

With fall semester membership ranging from 15 to 30 girls, the Tennis Club holds wide-spread interest at Heights. One of the projects planned by the girls and their adviser, Miss Dazey Horn, was a session in badminton, but the weekly tennis play proved so absorbing and entertaining that they found no time for the other game

An all-school tennis tournament played in the spring draws from 30 to 60 girls from all over the school.

Tennis club meetings are held every Monday gym. Meetings begin at 2:45 p.m. and last until the girls tire of their games.

Above: Mrs. Buckenmeyer, Sandra Ginsburg, Marsha Snelderman, Liz Schneider, Connie Baird, and Judy Moritz watch another Bowling Club member "put one in there." Below: Pat Gallitto looks on as two hockey players fight it out for the ball Supplying all the recreation any sports-loving girl could want, the Girls' Bowling Club meets every Friday afternoon. Although in existence for many years, this club has not received a great deal of publicity. The reason for this is that its active membership does not exceed more than ten or twelve members. There are many more girls enrolled in the club, but they do not bowl regularly with the club at the Cedar Center Lanes. President for the first semester was Judy Moritz. Second semester president was Kathy Norris. In addition to bowling every week, which in itself is a party, the girls have a social get-together at least once a semester.

Every member of GAA has the opportunity to play on the class teams, a part of the intramural program offered by the Athletic Club, a branch of GAA. Girls who have attended the required two-out-of-three practices and who have shown good performance are eligible for the Black and Gold teams of which there are two from each grade. Ann Baerwald, president of the Athletic Club, Miss Dazey Horn, and Miss Mary K. Graham select the All-Star team. The Varsity team is selected by Miss Horn, Miss Dorothy Crane, and Miss Graham. Becoming a Varsity player, automatically makes the girl a member of Yellow Jackets.

Annette Sinagra spears the ball with one hand in the faculty vs. girls' all-star team game

The purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association is to give girls who are interested additional opportunity to become more adept in athletics. It has its regular meeting the first Tuesday of each month, sponsoring programs that are unusual and lively and appeal to varied interests.

The GAA sponsors the Tennis Club, Swim Club, and Athletic Club. The two athletic honorary clubs are Yellow Jackets and Cadets. May 26 the new GAA officers and new swim and gym cadets were introduced at the annual GAA Banquet. Outstanding girl athletes were awarded their trophies, letters, and medals.

As a service project this year, girls brought in clothing to be sent to needy people in Korea.

Another highlight on the GAA calendar was the volleyball game between the Heights faculty and the girls' all-star team. The "pedagogues" were victors by a very close score. After school, girls tried out for all-star teams. Beginning with field hockey, the program included volleyball, basketball, and baseball. Swim club kept the pool filled with swimmers and divers; the tennis club exhibited excellent skill and promising young players.

Training students to convey ideas effectively through reading, writing, speaking, and listening is the primary goal of the English department.

All the English courses offered teach these four basic skills; and, in addition, many offer a specialized skill. The regular English classes emphasize literature and grammar, while modern literature concentrates mostly on the reading material. Radio, drama, and speech class teach students to speak before a group and give them practice in doing so. Journalism provides opportunities for students to develop any talents in writing and publishing which they may possess.

These numerous English courses are provided in the hope of enabling Heights students to communicate more effectively.

Through the United Nations the importance of having a working knowledge of languages has been brought forth. A study of foreign languages helps a student to better understand the people of the rest of the world.

Industrial Arts classes assist the teenager in the basic skills which are required for a vocation in the field of industry.

In commercial classes the girl gains practical experience in the mechanics of business. Proficiency in the fields of typing, stenography, and the operation of business machines is acquired.

Under the leadership of Mr. Paul Nash, the history department offers students a three year course including world history, American history, social problems, and economic problems. Studying past civilizations and cultures enables pupils to understand the world of today. It teaches them to appreciate their democratic form of government more fully and to prepare themselves to become active, informed citizens and voters.

The science department, headed by Mr. Carl Dewald, endeavors to provide a course to meet the needs of every student. Among the courses offered, biology is the subject most frequently elected by pupils. For those who intend to enter a scientific field, preparatory courses in chemistry and physics are offered.

The main purpose of the physical education department is to prepare students for a healthy, active life, by teaching various indoor, outdoor, and water sports. Both the boys' and girls' departments provide instruction during class periods and a program of after-school sports.

During the junior year both boys and girls are required to take hygiene, a course dealing with basic biology, anatomy, and care of the human body. In addition, the girls' classes discuss nutrition and other aspects of homemaking. Both boys and girls gain a better understanding of marriage and family life through this course.

Miss Hensel, Mr. Biel, Mr. Witley, and Miss De Rota put in some after-school hours as they work at the Euclid football game in the refreshment booth. Teachers helped, too, to feed hot-dogs and cokes to the hungry Heights rooters.

Students frequently fail to realize that for every extracurricular activity there is a teacher, or teachers, who willingly sponsor it. Many extra hours are spent by members of the faculty helping students to prepare concerts, sports events, publications, parties, and assemblies and in chaperoning dances and other affairs. Every teacher has some part to play in this program of curriculum enrichment.

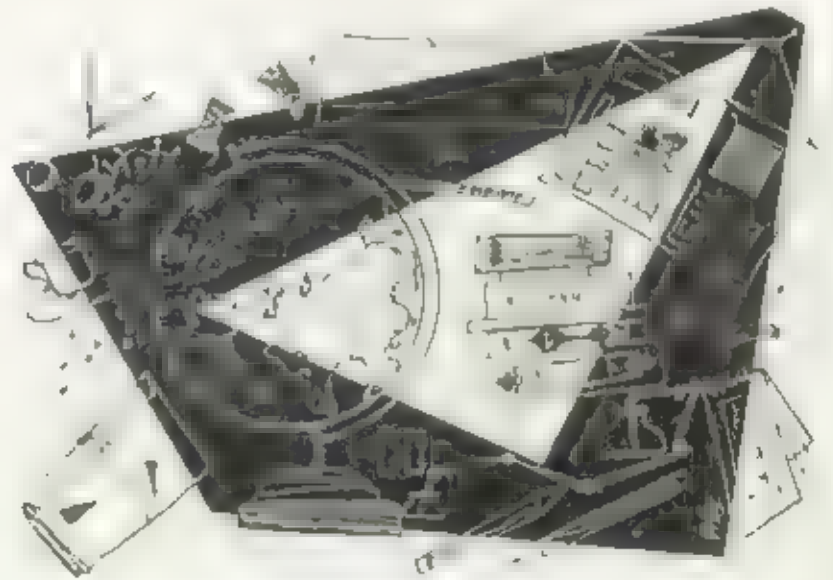

Mr. Vanorsdall, Heights' athletic director, spends hours scheduling and coordinating varsity contests. Looking over Heights' new turnstile entrance at the north end of Hosford Field, he stops to talk with two of the Athletic Service Club members in a ticket booth.

Each new instructor was introduced by Mr. Bachtel, chairman of the Teachers' Council. With music provided by Mr. Barbee and his Heights Hi Hats, the teachers conversed, had refreshments, and danced in a lighthearted atmosphere.

FOREMOST AMONG SENIORS' PLANS

AT CLASS OFFICERS—George Huggins, Barbara Orbits, Barbara Zettelmeyer, Barry Brown.

Harmon Lustig, January graduate, solemnly receives that long-awaited diploma from Mr. Chalmer Lutz, school board president

After 13 years of formal education the Heights High graduates of 1955 depart with many pleasant memories and useful knowledge. Graduation is the culmination of things that have played a major role in a student's school life.

The class members will never forget the long hours spent in the library working on themes and semester reports. The anticipation of the Box Supper and the fun of choosing a class song are symbols of the final year. Cooperation among seniors made it possible to put on a successful Senior Show. One of the highlights of the year occurred January 22, 1955. Four-hundred members of the class and their dates filled the Social Room. It was Senior Prom Night! And finally, Graduation! Girls wearing white robes and carrying blood-red flowers and boys wearing dark robes marched solemnly to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance."

The various clubs, class activities, and the friendships formed at Heights have prepared the graduates to gracefully make their debut into the world as competent and interesting young people.

SENIORS START SOCIAL SEASON

Cakes and hot dogs ate in order between dances as hungry moles dig in.

The famous trio of Lutz, Trump, and Matvuz sound off at the A2 Box Supper.

Dale Cowan leisurely signifies his approval to a Prowl dance contest.

Members of the A1 class greeted each other October 12 at their first dance of the year, the Pumpkin Prowl. The evening's entertainment included several dance contests and humorous games. One such game included passing an apple from shoulder to shoulder down a long line, with the first line accomplishing this feat, winning. To carry out the theme of Halloween, candied apples, hot dogs, and pop were served.

The musical team of Epstein, London, Prohaska, and Morrison provide entertainment for their classmates.

WITH INTERCLASS ACTIVITIES

What do they see? A group of A1's watch the sights of the Prowl

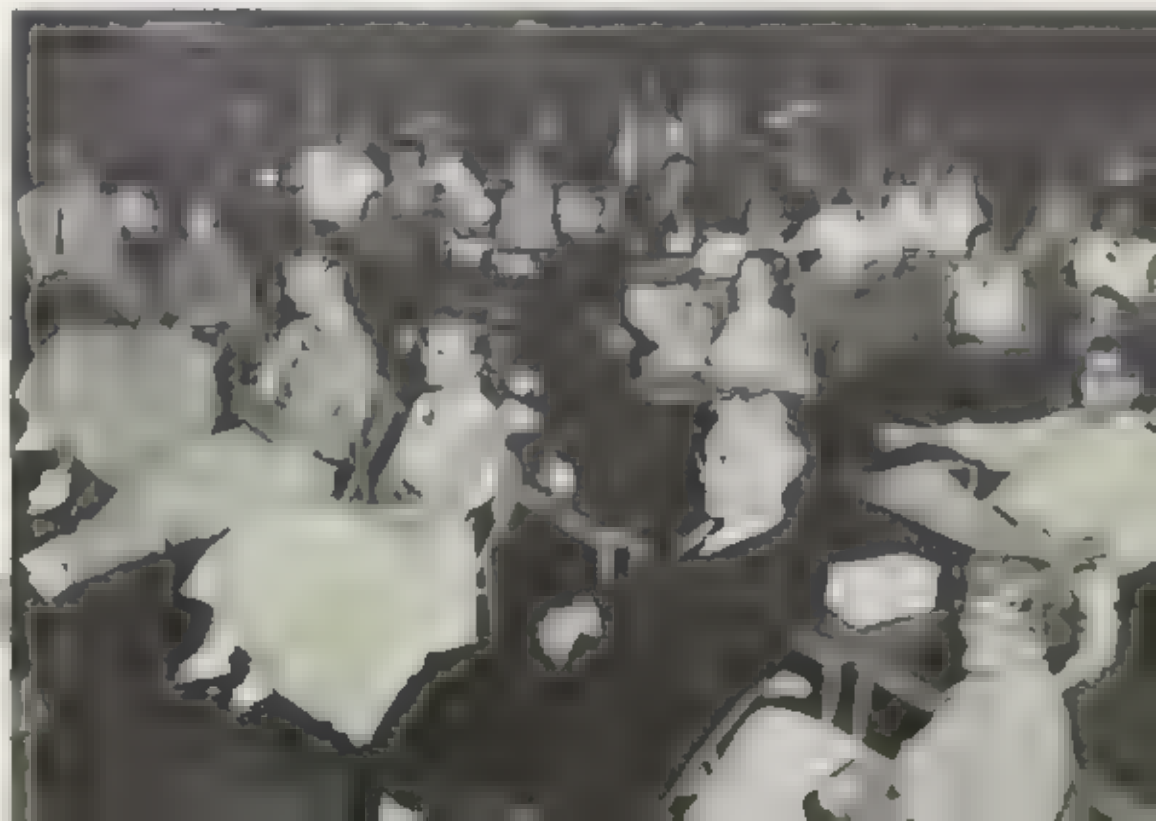

President Brown and Secretary Orbits lean up with Vice President Huggins and Treasurer Zeltmayer at the Pumpkin Prowl

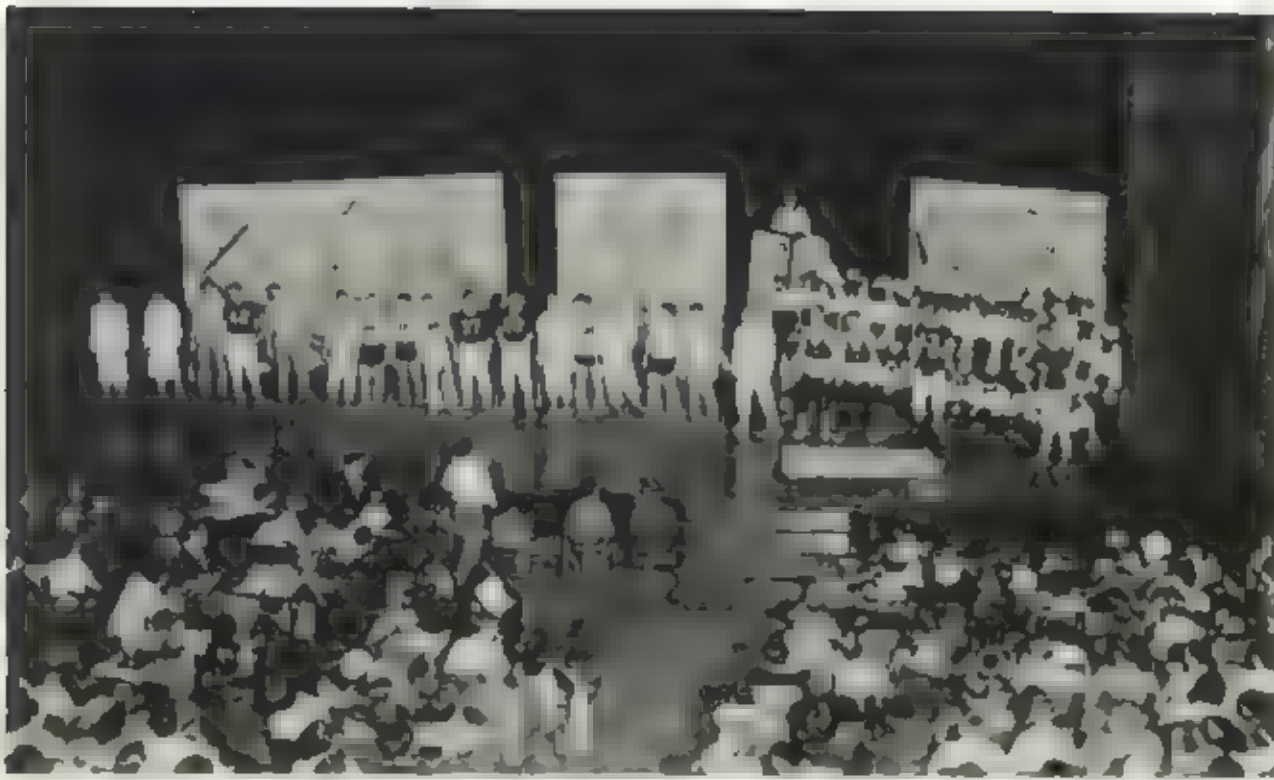

The Brown Jug Saloon is the entertainment motif at the A2 Box Supper

Faculty and students enjoy humorous Western entertainment provided by the A2's

The annual A2 Box Supper was held in the Social Room October 19. After a chicken dinner and all the trimmings, the class and faculty enjoyed a skit presented by members of the class. A song committee, headed by Marilyn Meyer, sang the class song, a parody on "A Tree in the Meadow". The entertainment was rounded out with social dancing.

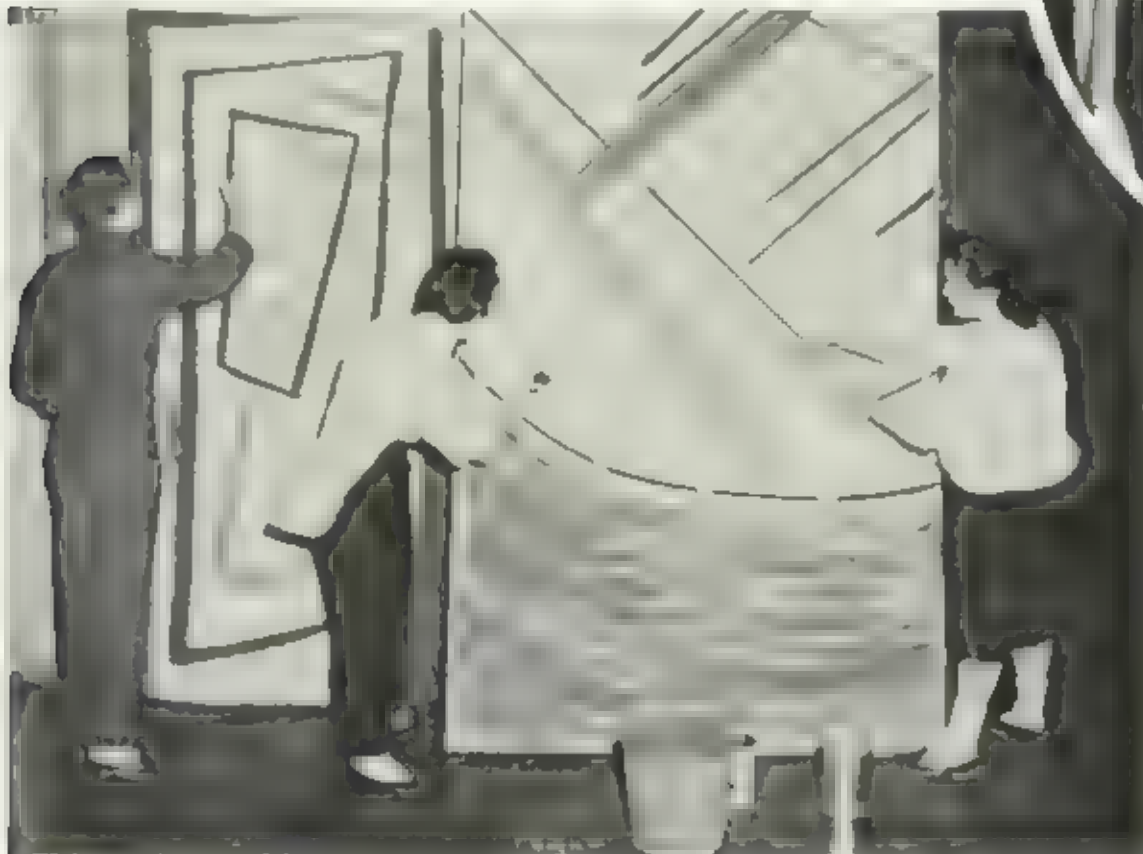

A packed house watch the athletes' chorus bemoan the teams' accomplishments at the Senior Show.

SENIOR SHOW PERFORMANCE INITIATES

NEW CLASS ACTIVITY

Right: The jitterbug chorus of the Senior Show in the midst of a number indicate the effect of practice on precision dancing. Below: Cowgirl Caryl Klein takes careful aim as Barbara Schway and Barbara Hart appear to take cover

The Al and All classes held a meeting, planned a Senior Show, and elected Dave Schwartz chairman of the production. The first thing the two classes did was to write a new script, having voted against the one previously composed by a Student Council script committee. The show's theme was "A Sophomore's Daze to Senior Ways." It showed the change in a typical Heights boy's point of view as he went from a sophomore's bewilderment to a senior's assuredness. Miss Lelah Stephens was chosen faculty sponsor by the classes. Many after-school rehearsals and worries of "Will we ever have a show?" later culminated in the actual successful performance Saturday, February 26

Sometime during the first two weeks of school, the Girls' Cabinet sponsors the C1 mixer. This after-school party enables the C1's to meet each other on a social basis. The mixer, held September 16, featured square dancing, refreshments, and plenty of fun. (See left) It served to introduce the C1's to their fellow classmates and their new school.

JANUARY 1958

Y'all come! Y'all come—and they sure did! All junior class members supported their affairs as shown by the remarkable success of each one.

The BI's started off with a rollicking Fool's Frolic and then glided into December with the Eleventh Heaven—the theme of the junior dance. The social room abounded February 12, with eager BI's dancing to square dance music at the Rustic Ramble. Once again April 16 the BI's flooded the social room, swaying to music at their semi-formal dance—Bustles and Beaux.

The BI's dove into the pool with a big splash as they began the fall semester with a dry (?) splash party in the pool. Came December and they joined the BI's at the semi-formal junior dance. Sadelle Geller reigned as queen of the Sweetheart Swing, February 19.

82 CLASS OFFICERS: David Spreng, president; Gretchen Schmitt, secretary; Sheldon Uppes, vice-president; Sharon Perelman, treasurer.

Throughout the year "We Were There" to see the students take advantage of all that Heights had to offer. There were dances, parties, and various athletic events. Yet Heights students still found time to give to those less fortunate than they. You "We Were There" when Heights students gave their all to help others.
